

---

We are working towards a society where anyone and everyone can choose the pronouns that feel best for their own identity, whether they identify as a man, woman, agender, or fluid between the binary. The following guide is a starting point for using pronouns respectfully.

